References

[1] R.J.R. Back and H. Mannila. A semantic approach to program modularity. Inf. Control, 60(1-3):138–167, 1984.

[2] J.A. Bergstra and J.W. Klop. Process algebra for synchronous communication. Inf. Control, 60(1-3):109–137, 1984.

[3] Pavol Dúriš, Zvi Galil, Wolfgang Paul, and Rüdiger Reischuk. Two nonlinear lower bounds for on-line computations. Inf. Control, 60(1-3):1–11, 1984.

[4] M. Falaschi, G. Levi, and C. Palamidessi. A synchronization logic: Axiomatics and formal semantics of generalized Horn clauses. Inf. Control, 60(1-3):36–69, 1984.

[5] D. Harel and D. Peleg. On static logics, dynamic logics, and complexity classes. Inf. Control, 60(1-3):86–102, 1984.

[6] Michael C. Loui. The complexity of sorting on distributed systems. Inf. Control, 60(1-3):70–85, 1984.

[7] P. Papantoni-Kazakos. A game theoretic approach to robust filtering. Inf. Control, 60(1-3):168–191, 1984.

[8] Eljas Soisalon-Soininen and Peter Widmayer. On the complexity of concurrency control by locking in distributed database systems. Inf. Control, 60(1-3):103–108, 1984.

[9] Jerzy Tiuryn. Unbounded program memory adds to the expressive power of first-order programming logic. Inf. Control, 60(1-3):12–35, 1984.